
VOL. XXX. UKIAH, MENDOCINO CO., CAL.: FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1906. NO. 35

INFORMATION FOR GRAPE MEN

The following communication is received from Col. Alfred V. LaMotte and is in answer to a letter of his to Prof. Bioletti of the agricultural experiment station of the University of California regarding the planting and disinfection of cuttings, and will be interesting reading to the vineyardists of this county:

BERKELEY, February 12.—I am afraid you will think I have been very neglectful in not answering your letter of December 29th. The letter was forwarded to me at Fresno but did not arrive there until after I had left and it has remained there at the Grand Central hotel until the present time.

I think you are quite right that certain parts of the Russian River valley in Mendocino county are admirably adapted to the growing of wine grapes. With regard to the best method for the prevention of the introduction of phylloxera into the district, I should strongly advise all plantations being made with cuttings. If you commence introducing roots either of vinifera or resistant, you are almost sure to introduce phylloxera. There is very little danger from cuttings and if you will adopt the following method of disinfection this slight danger will be eliminated. It would be well to warn all planters not to introduce cuttings from any district suspected with being infected by the Anaheim disease. It would be well to restrict the importation of cuttings, if possible, to those coming from Sonoma and Napa.

The simplest and most effective method of treating cuttings suspected of being infected with phylloxera is to expose them to the fumes of bisulfid of carbon. The treatment with liquid insecticides is not nearly so reliable, as Professor Hilgard pointed out many years ago, on account of the difficulty of wetting the buds of many varieties, owing to their protective covering of wolly hairs. Some fear has been expressed that the poisonous fumes would injure the vitality of cuttings, but Professor Hilgard demonstrated in 1881 that Zinfandel cuttings kept for twelve hours in an atmosphere saturated with the fumes showed no signs of injury, and grew as well as untreated cuttings. Recent tests with resistant cuttings, Riparia and Rupestris, indicrte that they can be treated with equal safety, for even after twenty-five hours' treatment they were not killed, though their slowness in starting and callusing indicated that they were injured. After five hours treatment Rubestris St. George cuttings were uninjured and sent out roots and buds vigorously and rapidly. A large lot (about 4,000 cuttings) of Rupestris St. George, Rubestris X Riparia 3309, Riparia Gloire, and Solonis were exposed in a saturated atmosphere of carbon bisulfid for seven hours, and at the present time they are rooting and show no signs of injury. As Professor Hilgard's experiments in 1881 showed that one half hour exposure was sufficient to destroy the summer eggs of the insect, the time latitude is quite sufficient for safety even for the winter egg.

The method of using the bisulfid is as follows: Place the cuttings in a barrel, vat, or box made tight by means of a thick coat of paint, or of paper pasted on the inside. On top of the cuttings place a saucer or other shallow dish, into which to pour the bisulfid of carbon. An ordinary saucer will hold enough for a box three feet cube or a 200 gallon vat. For larger receptacles it is better to use two or more saucers. Deeper vessels will not do, as the saturation is not sufficiently rapid. After pouring the bisulfid into the saucer, cover the box with an oiled canvas sheet or other tight fitting cover, and allow to stand from forty-five to ninety minutes. At the end of this time there should be little of the bisulfid left. If it has all evaporated this is proof that insufficient was used. No flame lights should be used as the liquid burns easily and the fumes form an explosive mixture with the air. Care should be taken not to spill any of the liquid on the cuttings, as it may kill them. It is advisable to cut off about half an inch of the lower end of the treated cuttings before planting, as the vapor injures the open pith.

Besides disinfecting the cuttings in this way, all the packing material in which they come should be burned, or if valuable dipped in boiling water. Practically it is impossible to disinfect rooted cuttings satisfactorily on account of the difficulty of killing all the phylloxera without seriously injuring the vine roots.

Has Sold His Ranch.

E. C. Miller was in town last Saturday on a business visit and reports that he has disposed of his property in Anderson valley, having sold his ranch to William Witherell. The deceased was melancholy over the illness of her mother whom she had been taking care of for some time. Emetics were given but the girl expired before medical aid could be had. One of the sisters of the deceased had worked in this city and Minnie had visited her here.

The members of the old firm will still remain on active duty. The PRESS congratulates them on the coming of Mr. Anderson to Ukiah, and feels assured that he has made no mistake in associating himself with the firm mentioned. H. B. Smith, R. E. Donohoe, P. W. Arthur Wheeler, the wounded boy, has been taken to the county hospital and it is said that the wound in his thigh is getting along nicely and will be healed in a few weeks. LAWSON TO AID REFORM

WILL USE INSURANCE PROXIES TO SECURE PASSAGE OF ARMSTRONG LAWS.

Boston, Feb. 28.—In a series of communications Thomas W. Lawson of this city, who for several months has been active in securing proxies from policyholders in leading life insurance companies, states that he is ready and willing to do all in his power to aid in the passage of the laws recommended by the Armstrong investigating committee.

Mr. Lawson's statement regarding the proxies he has obtained has been awaited with interest in view of the fact that one of the laws recommended by the Armstrong committee would invalidate each and every one of the proxies already secured.

In a communication to the Armstrong committee Mr. Lawson said in part:

"On behalf of scores of thousands of policyholders of the New York Life and Mutual Life companies, I would respectfully submit: At an expense of hundreds of thousands of dollars I have collected sufficient proxies from policyholders to give me power at the present time to control all the coming elections of both the New York Life and Mutual companies.

"I have turned these over to a committee composed of Governors of states and equally representative public men.

"My reason for collecting such proxies is: I had reason to believe the policyholders of these two companies have been plundered of from $175,000,000 to $250,000,000, which can be recovered provided these companies are placed in the hands of honest, fearless men. I believe that if these companies are placed in the hands of such men some of the richest and best-known men in the country, who have systematically plundered the people for a quarter of a century past, will be sent to State prisions for long terms."

Mr. Lawson added that if the companies are turned over to "such honest, fearless men as the Governors committee will nominate for directors and trustees all necessary reforms will follow.

In a letter to the Governors' committee Mr. Lawson advised it to assure the New York Legislature that the committee approves of the new election law provided by the Armstrong committee. He urges the Governors' committee to do all in its power to assist in the passage of the law. Mr. Lawson advises the Governors' committee, in the event of the passage of the proposed law, to name a board of trustees "as near ideal in its composition as your honesty, fearlessness and ability can formulate."

In a third communication addressed to the policyholders of the New York and Mutual Life Insurance companies, who has sent him their proxies, Mr. Lawson explained the situation and urged them to do all in their power to aid in the passage of the law in regard to the conduct of the annual election. "The most effective work you can do," declared Mr. Lawson, "is to cause your Governors, State Commissioners and different committees to serve notice on the New York Life and Mutual that if they oppose the passage of the law they will be debarred from doing business in your State."

In baking powder Royal is the standard, the powder of highest reputation; found by the United States Government tests of greatest strength and purity.

It renders the food more healthful and palatable and is most economical in practical use.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy alum powders because they are "cheap." Yet some of the cheapest made powders are sold to consumers at the highest price.

Housekeepers should stop and think. Is it not better to buy the Royal and take no chances—the powder whose goodness and honesty are never questioned?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion by an alum-phosphate or other adultered powder to save a few pennies?

POTTER, February 20.—Edward Andrew Haddick, who died February 9, 1906, from tuberculosis, which was the result of pneumonia contracted in doing his duty by a sister who lost her husband as a result also of measles and pneumonia. Mr. Haddick was born January 16th, 1863, making him at the time of death, 43 years, 24 days old, yet in the prime of life. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and three children—one son and two little daughters— an aged father, J. M. N. Haddick, who resides in Santa Rosa, three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. E. P. Willison, at Butte Co., Mrs. May Chima and Mrs. K. Barker at Sutter Co., his brothers, Newt Haddick of Butte Co., and Tom Haddick of Ukiah.

Mr. Haddick was a member of the A. O. U. W. and the Masons. The remains were laid to rest here in the cemetery on the 11th inst., Rev. Dexter of the M. E. church, of which he was a member, conducting the church services. The Masons having charge also and conducting their funeral rites at the grave. For lack of time the A. O. U. W. gave away in their rites for their departed brother.

However, in life this last named order did their part as during his first and last sickness they also assisted. During the month prior to his death the Workmen took full care of the sufferer, meeting all expenses. The widow will also receive benefits. He was a member of this order some three or four years, joining when the lodge was organized here.

As a friend and neighbor personally we can say he was true and accomodating and never withheld his help in need, death or sickness among his friends, hence we conclude he was a good husband and kind father. Realizing the end of his existence was near. he was conscious to the last and made all arrangements for the final putting away of his mortal body and trying to cheer those who would mourn. The sorrowing ones have the sympathy of all.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

U. S. GUNBOATS RUSHED TO CHINA

GUNBOATS EL CANEY AND QUIROS GO TO PROTECT FLEEING MISSIONARIES.

The Boycott Has Greatly Encreased the Anti-Foreign Feeling in China.

Manila, Feb. 28.—The battleship Ohio, flagship of the American fleet on the Asiatic station, has sailed for Hongkong, where she will dock and rush repairs so as to be prepared for possible exigencies.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Navy Department has received a cablegram from Shanghai announcing the departure from there yesterday of the gunboats El Caney and Quiros for Kiukiang, which is near the scene of the reported trouble, which resulted yesterday in the killing of six French Jesuits and two members of an English missionary family.

New York, Feb. 28.—Dr. H. K. Carroll of the Methodist Missionary Society has received from Bishop Bashford at Shanghai a cablegram, as follows:

"James, Charles and families; Lewis, Howe, Ogborn, Kahn, Newboy Hughes all reached Kiukiang safe Property burned. Trouble due French Catholic fatal quarrel with magistrate."

The Lewis referred to, Dr. Carroll said, is the Rev. Spencer Lewis, superintendent of the mission, who was evidently on a visit to Nanchang.

Manila, Feb. 28.—A leading American firm in this city has received the following cable from Canton:

"The boycott has greatly encouraged the anti-foreign feeling. Teachers, reformers, agitators and the native newspapers now have the power of that association behind them causing a remarkable growth in the reform party and secret societies while the anti-foreign, anti-dynasty Viceroy of Canton, by his autocratic ruling, and his antagonistic attitude to the foreign consuls, encourages the masses of the people in their anti-foreign feeling.

"In the perfecture of Chang Chew near Amoy, recent outrages against foreign church procedure, approved by Peking, has strengthened the revolutionary forces who are now eagre to try conclusions with the Government.

"In a portion of China between the Yangtsze valley and the Hongkong district, a dangerous anti-foreign feeling exists which is likely to break out at any moment.'

The Federal troops here are preparing against the pending outbreak.

Marriage by Proxy.

Holland, says a Scotch paper, marriage by proxy is allowed. This is the so called "marriage by the glove" and is usually put in practice by a Dutchman who is sojourning abroad and, wanting a wife, is too poor or too far off to return home for one. In such a case he writes home to a lawyer, who selects one conformable to the requirements of his client. If the gentleman approves he next sends the lawyer a soiled left hand glove and a power of attorney, which settles the business. A friend marries the woman by proxy, and she is thereafter promptly shipped off to her new home.

CAMELS OUTDONE.

Creatures That Go For Extended Periods Without Drinking.

Other creatures than the camel are able to get along for extended periods without drinking. Sheep in the southwestern deserts go for forty to sixty days in winter without drink, grazing on the green, succulent vegetation of that season. Peccaries in the desert of Sonora live in little dry hills where there is no natural water for long periods. They cannot possibly find water—in fact, for months at a time. The only moisture they can obtain comes from roots and the fruits of cacti, but the most extraordinary case is that of the pocket mouse, one of the common rodents of the desert. This little creature, by the way, has a genuine fur lined "pocket" on the outside of its cheek. When it is hungry it takes food from this pocket with its paw, just as a man would pull a ham sandwich from his pocket. One of these mice has been kept for three years with no other food than the mixed bird seed of commerce. During this period it had not a taste of either water or green food. Other experimenters have found, in fact, that these mice in captivity refuse such treats, not seeming to know that water is good to drink. The bird seed put before this mouse contained not more than 10 per cent of moisture, which is less than is necessary for digestion. Stuff so dry as this cannot even be swallowed until it is moistened by saliva. Yet this remarkable mouse gave nothing but his time to the interests of science. He suffered nothing in health or spirits during his captivity.—Brooklyn Eagle.

SYMPATHETIC LISTENERS

The Help They May Afford to Slow and Indifferent Talkers.

At no time more than when a thought is struggling toward expression should a friend bear with a friend's infirmities. A deep sympathy should be poured out with lavish affection about the one who is seriously striving to say some real thing. In this atmosphere of patient, sympathetic intelligence the inept word, the crude phrase, the wholly inadequate expression will be enabled to do their work, and the thought transference will be effected; the thought will be safely lodged in the mind of the other, slightly bruised in transit, but intact and intelligible. With an "I know what you mean," "Exactly," or "Go on; I understand," much help may be rendered, and at last when the thinker of the thought has placed his friend in possession and by reason of this effort has entered into fuller possession of it himself, the conversation is in a way to begin. Then lavish upon the elaboration of the thought all the beauties that can be woven out of words—precision, balance, music—but let us, dear lovers of language, remember to be discreetly gentle and listen with averted glance while the thought is still in negligee.—Atlantic.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE County of Mendocino, State of California.

Union Lumber Company, a corporation, plaintiff, vs. Charles B. Butler, John Doe, Richard Roe and Mary Roe, defendants.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Mendocino, State of California, and the complaint filed in the office of the clerk of said Superior Court.

McNab and Hirsch, Attys. for Pltff.

The people of the State of California send greetings to Charles B. Butler, John Doe, Richard Roe and Mary Roe, defendants.

You are hereby directed and required to appear in the above entitled action and answer the complaint filed therein in said Superior Court of Mendocino County, State of California within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within the County of Mendocino, or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days:

And you are hereby notified that unless you appear and answer the complaint as above required, the plaintiff will take judgment against you for any money or damages demanded in the complaint as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any relief demanded in the complaint.

The object of said suit is to obtain a judgment and decree quieting the title to the lands and premises set forth and described in the plaintiff's complaint which are situated in Mendocino County, State of California and described as follows:

The Se ¼ of Section 33 in Township 21 North, of Range 16 West, M. D. M.

and determining the adverse claims of defendants in and to said lands, and that it be adjudged and decreed by said decree that the defendants have not, nor has any or either of them, any right, title, estate or interest what ever in the lands above described or in any portion thereof, and that the title of the plaintiff thereto is good and valid, and that the defendants and each of them be forever enjoined and debarred from asserting any claim whatever in or to said lands, or premises, or any part thereof, and for such other and further relief as to this court may seem meet and equitable, all of which will more fully appear by reference to the complaint on file herein, to which you are hereby referred for full particulars.

And if you do not appear as above required, plaintiff will take default against you, and apply to the court for the relief above mentioned.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court of the said County of Mendocino, State of California, this 5th day of March, 1904.

[SEAL] HALE McCOWEN,
